THE STRENGTH OF OUR FINANCIAL SYSTEM.

We have had this week an illustration of the strength of our financial system under a sudden and somewhat perilous strain. During all the pressure of the money market for the last eight months, the trouble has been limited to one or two of the ordinary sources of monetary stringency, leaving the others quite free from perturbation.

We have often explained that three things are essential to an easy money market-first, an adequate supply of loan able capital; secondly, efficient confidence to lend it; and thirdly, ample circulation to facilitate the movements of that capital in the channels and currents of business. This being so, it follows that the chief directions from which monetary stringency proceeds are also three. We shall have a tight money market it we have either a deficiency of loanable capital, or a disturbance of the currency, or a failure of public confidence. To the category last mentioned we must refer the English panic of 1866. It was thus designated a creditpanie, as distinguished from those panies which originate in a want of capital, or from trouble in the currency. Such credit-panies are rare, and are generally very slow to pass off. We have seldom had them of late years in the United States.

This week, however, we have been visited by a slight attack of this type of the monetary malady. Many circuit. stances have had a tendency of late to shake public confidence. The savings bank failures are not yet forgotten. A few weeks ago the Bull's Head Bank, an old institution which enjoyed large credit, suspended payment and further disturbed the public confidence. The monetary tranquillity was hardly restored by the bank resuming business, when another failure was announced—that of the Atlantic Bank while several other city banks were falsely said to be in trouble. The Atlantic Bank has long been in a moribund condition, and the other banks to which suspicion has pointed have abundantly established their credit by the ordeal of a Clearing-House examination. Still the condition of public confidence has received a shock, and may in consequence be sensitive for some time to come.

The most conspicuous result of this perturbation is the partial return of stringency and the advance of the rates of interest, notwithstanding the influx of currency and of deposits from the interior. Moreover, the stringency naturally arising from the causes we have named has been increased by artificial means, and the tight-money speculators have done their best to spread and augment its virulence. Still the utmost they have been able to do is to delay the return of ease for a few days, and already the worst of the spasm seems to have passed away. As no further trouble seems to threaten any of the banks, there is little doubt that the tidal flow of money will have its normal effect of giving case and tranquillity for some time to come to the monetary movements at this centre. Still we repeat that it is a notable proof of the strength of our financial position, that after the mercantile community have been harrassed by eight months of almost uninterrupted monetary stringency, the failure and troubles, the excitement and the rumors of the past week have produced so little effect, and have so soon been followed by a partial recovery, such as we see in the money market at present.

For anything that appears we shall have monetary tranquillity for the next two or three months. The best authorities anticipate trouble in the fall. Consequently there will be more disposition to provide time loans beforehand, and already some heavy transactions are reported running to January. This disposition to seek time-loans in the summer, reaching through the fall and winter, if it extends, as it bids fair to do, will have the twofold effect of diminishing the pressure in the fall and winter and of increasing the activity during the dull months between seasons. If, for this and other reasons, money should not lend at as low rates as usual this summer there will probably be a compensation in the prevalence of easier rates in the fall, especially as the drain of capital from this centre, in consequence of the fires at Chicago and Boston, has ceased, and will in all probability be followed in a few months by a return current setting this way. As this outward flow of capital contributed so much towards making our money market sensitive, tight, and bare of funds, so the return of that capital should tend when it sets in to develop ease.

THE ATLANTIC BANK DEFALCATION.

The failure of the Atlantic Bank, through the embezzlement by its cashier of all its available assets, has caused a profound impression on the public mind, and the Directors of the bank are generally blamed for not having taken more stringent precautions beforehand to avert such a catastrophe. Indiscriminate charges of the most serious character have also been made against these officers, the truth of which nobody is at present able to test, because the facts are so imperfectly known. Till the report of the receiver is published little authentic information can be obtained as to the position of the bank beyond that given on Monday by the Clearing House Committee, which shows that the bank has available assets of $550,000, while its liabilities are $615,000. To this deficit of $65,000 we must add $162,000 for securities on special deposit which were converted and embezzled by the cashier. The total deficit is thus $227,-000, besides the capital of $300,000, and the surplus $57,000 according to the Clearing House report. To meet this the stockholders can be assessed for a sum equal to the par value of their shares, which is $300,000. Should one-fourth of the shareholders be beyond reach or unable to pay, still enough will, perhaps, be realized from this source to meet the deposits in full. If this be correct then there is no reason why the creditors of the bank should sell their claims, as is reported, for 50 cents on the dollar.

There is nothing in the statement to fasten blame as yet on any one but the cashier, who seems to be alone and to have had no confederates to share the guilt of his peculation. As to most of the charges against the directors of this bank, it is only fair to suspend our judgment until we have the evidence more fully before us, which will involve no more than a few days of delay.

Still there are some points on which enough is already known to sustain the probability of culpable negligence. The good old maxim, nemo repente turpissimus, applies with all its force to such men as this delinquent cashier. Ever since his boyhood, Taintor has been in places of trust in some of our best banks, and till lately no shadow of suspicion had ever darkened his path. His family were among the most reputable and honest names in Connecticut. His abilities and standing and prospects were such as to inspire and justify confidence. How long ago he got bitten with the mania for speculating, how long ago he touched the first money of his employers unlawfully, how much he has embezzled altogether, we do not know. The directors do not seem to know. But how was it that they did not observe when the great revolution took place in his habits which rendered him unfit to be a bank officer or to fill any fiduciary position whatsoever where money passed through his hands? Why did not the directors discharge him from office the very moment he was known to speculate? If they had done so, would they not have been more free from blame, and would they not have saved both their stockholders, the public, and the culprit himself from this crushing calamity?

Such are the questions which should be answered by the President and the Directors of the Atlantic Bank, if they would clear themselves from the suspicion of negligence. It is a part of their duty to go frequently to the bank, and to guard against such dangers as have destroyed this institution, ruined its cashier, and struck a blow at public confidence. Many persons seem to suppose that the director is a mere lay figure in a bank parlor, with no active duties to perform and no responsibility if he fails. Under the national currency law, this mischievous error ought to have long ago disappeared; for every director when appointed or elected has to take an oath that "he will diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the association, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of the act." We call the attention of the directors to this requirement of the law, and while we do not wish to condemn them hastily, or to deny them the right to a fair hearing, still they must remember that they are on their trial before the bar of public opinion, and that the burden of proof rests on them to show their innocence. If they should be able to clear themselves of all participation, direct or indirect, in the guilt of this embezzlement, we shall hail the proof with welcome. But appearances are for the present against them, and demand a full exculpation.

There is one statement in the Clearing House report to which we have not adverted. It refers to the capital, which has long been impaired, and seems before the defalcation to have been short about $180,000. This fact, with some others, has led some people to blame the Comptroller of the Currency for not putting some check on the bank. But he has had the bank examined twice during the year instead of once. What other check could be apply? The law gives the Comptroller very little discretion in such cases as this. There are but four instances in which the banking law gives the Comptroller any power to do what is here suggested. In the 53d section of the Banking law two special cases are provided for-namely, that of a bank failing to redeem its notes, and secondly that of a bank violating the provisions of the National Currency law. A third case is the failure to keep up their reserve after 30 days notice. Besides these there is but one other instance where the Comptroller has such powers, namely, where a bank cer its dealers beyond tifies cheques for any of the amount actually on deposit by such dealer at cases of certification. These four those in which the Comptroller has certain limited and well-defined powers to interfere with a bank, and until the final explosion there was no evidence to bring the Atlantic Bank under the urgent notice of the Comp. That he should in future direct the examiner to visit oftener than once in six months a bank which is weak and badly managed may be properly suggested. But this is not now the question. No supervision by the Government examiner, no possible checks from the Comptroller of the Currency, no exterior authority under the National Currency act can at and in the stead of internal vigorous management by the board of directors, and not even these safeguards can protect a bank against being robbed and ruined and gutted if it have fallen into the clutch of a defaulting cashier.

THE CERTIFICATION OF CHEQUES.

A discussion has been stirred up during the past week between the banks and the Stock Exchange relative to the real character of certified cheques and the mutual rights and obligations they confer. We have received ceveral communications relative to this controversy, which is of great practical moment. The chief points in dispute are two—first, is the drawer of a certified cheque freed from responsibility when the bank has certified it? and secondly, is the bank in which a certified cheque is deposited liable to the depositor if the cheque is not paid.

As to the last of these two questions, it is somewhat singular that intelligent men of business can have been misled in regard to it. Still there are not a few persons who imagine that if they deposit to-day a certified cheque in a solvent bank, this bank is responsible for its payment should the certifying bank fail. Thus if A, a dealer in the Atlantic Bank, on the eve of suspension got his cheque certified there for $20,000, and deposited this cheque in due course in the Bank of Commerce, the claim is that A can recover the amount from the Bank of Commerce, and ean hold that institution responsible for the amount of the cheque. Now it is obvious that in this case the Bank of Commerce is responsible just so far as it has bound itself and no further. When receiving the cheque in question, the bank became the agent of its dealer, and was bound to use due diligence in collection. negligence there is no Bank of Commerce used due diligence. But the cheque was not paid because the obligee failed. In other words, the cheque was not good. It was deposited as eash, but was it really cash? If not, the person depositing it has no more claim in regard to this worthless piece of paper than if he had deposited any other spurious instrument or bad cheque in lieu of cash. He acquires no right over the Bank of Commerce by any such deposit, because it was no valid deposit at all. Hence it appears that the dealer is bound to receive his cheque back again when it is tendered to him by the Bank of Commerce. The case comes under precisely the same rule as governs deposits of other commercial paper which turns out to be bad. A bank receiving such evidences of debt is bound to use due diligence in collection. It assumes the obligations of agent to the payee for that purpose, and when, as in this case, there is no negligence alleged, but the paper was bad ab initio, it would be absurd to hold the agent responsible beyond certain definite limits. All that the Bank of Commerce had to do in the matter it is admitted to have done. This duty was first to receive the cheque, and present it without delay for payment, and secondly to return it to the depositor when payment was refused. From these obvious principles it follows, therefore, that the banks are very nearly right in the position they have taken. They claim that the deposit of a cheque certified by a bank on the eve of suspension gives no right to the depositor, and imposes no claim as against the bank in which the deposit is made. This is undoubtedly true if it is admitted, as in this case, there was no negligence in presenting the check for payment, and if the loss occurred in spite of due diligence on the part of the bank as agent in the work of collection.

As to the other question, our correspondents are, we think, in the wrong. They claim that after a cheque is certified the drawer is still responsible to the holder. Thus if A drew his cheque on the Atlantic Bank, which certified the said check on the eve of failure, and did not pay it when presented in due course, they think that B, the holder, can make A responsible, and can recover the amount just as if A were an endorser of an ordinary commercial note. The rulings of the courts leave no doubt that this is an error, The decisions for the last quarter of a century have regarded the certification of a cheque by a bank as relieving the drawer and binding the bank alone. This ruling is based on the very obvious principle that when B presents his cheque for certification he has his option either to take the money or to accept the certification instead. By refusing but in business circles generally.

the money and choosing to take the certification he elects to trust the bank. A new instrument is thus made between B and the bank; and as B has chosen voluntarily to forego the receipt of his money, and to make the bank his custedian thereof, A is released from the obligation, which was fulfilled and exhausted at the moment of certification. The error has arisen from a misapprehension of the legal effect of the act of certification. This was clearly set forth in the decision of Judge Spaulding last week. He says:

The legal effect of the certification of commercial paper by banks has been passed upon in numerous cases-Willetts vs. The Phonix Bank (2 Dewer, 13t); Meade vs. The Merchants' Bank of Albany (25 N.Y., 148). According to the course of husiness in New York city between the Clearing House and Exchange and banks which effect their clearances through it, the certification of commercial paper by a bank means something more than a mere assumption of an obligation to pay the certified paper when presented. The certification is in effect an order for the Clearing House to pay the amount to the credit of the bank holding the paper, and to charge the certifying bank with a corresponding amount. It is precisely the same as if the certifying bank took the note and gave its check upon the Clearing House for a specific sum of money. I am of opinion that the certification of the note operated as a payment of it. The teller of the plaintiff testified that when he certified the note he did not know the maker's account had been overdrawn. It cannot be claimed that this was such a voluntary payment as to defeat the right of recovery. A payment made without a full knowledge of all the facts concerning the matter is not a voluntary payment. (Lake vs. Citizens' Bank, 3 Keys, 276; Kingston Bank vs. Eldridge, 40 N.Y., 391.)

Many other cases are cited to which we need not refer, as the fact is well-established that a cheque after certification binds the bank, and is almost precisely equivalent to a certificate of deposit, for the payment of which the bank alone is responsible.

If the two points which we have discussed had raised a question as to what is due diligence in regard to the agency of banks in the collection of cheques and mercantile paper, or what power a bank has to withdraw and cancel its certification after it has been accepted by the public in lieu of money payment, there might have been more difficulty in the solution. In the shape in which the certification controversy is now presented, we have little room for doubt as to where the obligation lies.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF THE MONTH OF APRIL.

The general course of the money market during April was towards a condition of greater ease, but the improvement was quite gradual, and even up to the close of the month, loans on ordinary stock collateral were made as low as 7 per cent., only in a few exceptional cases. The month opened with the extreme culmination of the long continued stringency in money, and the payment of 2 per cent. a day by many Wall street borrowers; from this point there was a gradual decline, as the flow of currency from the country increased the resources of the banks, and during the latter part a commission of 1 to 1.64 per day, in addition to legal interest, was the prevailing rate. Our city banks, on their weekly statement of March 29, showed a de. ficiency of $377,200 below the 25 per cent. reserve required by law; April 5th, a deficiency of $3,245,800; April 12, a deficiency of $2,025,300; April 19, a deficiency of $983,950; and April 26, a deficiency of $309,275. The extraordinary tightness in money, and its prolongation for months beyond the time when easier rates had been expected, worked very oppressively for all borrowers on stocks and led to the suspension of several very respectable firms of stock-brokers. There was no panic, however, and the general feeling in financial circles showed a growing improvement as the prospect for easier money increased.

On Saturday, the 26th, the failure of the Atlantic National Bank in consequence of the loss of over $400,000 through the speculations of its cashier, Mr. Taintor, caused much excitement and general indignation, not only among those directly interested, Government bonds at the opening were depressed by the sales of parties who were obliged to dispose of their securities in order to get ready money, but recovered immediately from the effects of this movement, and afterward continued strong under an active demand. From 116½ on the first of the month, the 5-20s of 1867 advanced to 119¾ on the 22d, and closed at 119¾. The leading feature of the business in Governments was the demand from foreign purchasers, who were ready to take more bonds than the market could supply, and were unable, in fact, to supply their wants at the current prices.

In State and railroad bonds very little was done till towards the latter part of the month, when the high prices of Governments and the relaxation in money led to a perceptibly better business in railroad securities.

The stock market bore up with considerable tenacity under the monetary pressure, until the 16th and 17th, when there was quite a break in prices, following the announcement of the failure of a stock brokerage firm of some standing, and for a short time the tone was feverish and rather panicky. From this there was a rapid recovery in prices, and a feeling of some buoyancy at times, though the market was quiet and dull during the last part, and depressed at the close by the failure of the Atlantic Bank.

The following table will show the opening, highest, lowest and closing prices of railway and miscellaneous stocks during the months of March and April:

The upward movement in gold reached its highest point on the 5th, 7th and 12th of the month, and on those days touched  $119\frac{1}{8}$  as the maximum. From this point the price declined slightly, and ranged within a moderate limit during the balance of the month, at no time falling below  $116\frac{2}{8}$ , and closing at  $117\frac{1}{8}$ .

The halting in the upward movement was occasioned chiefly by sales of the gold clique, and subsequently the market continued in a somewhat uncertain position, as it was not known whether a new bull campaign was about to be entered upon.

Foreign exchange was altogether unsettled in the early part of the month by the irregularities in gold and money, and rates were exceedingly depressed in consequence. After the 20th there was some improvement, and rates advanced to a more reasonable standard.

RAILROADS OF NEW YORK STATE.

(Official Returns for the Fiscal Year Ended September 30, 1872.)

In the table which follows we furnish an abstract of the operations and financial affairs of every railroad in the State of New York which was sufficiently far advanced at the close of last fiscal year (Sept. 30, 1872) to have any operating accounts.

The figures have been compiled for us, with much labor, in the office of the State Engineer at Albany, to whom the reports are made, and it is through his courtesy and that of his Deputy that we are thus enabled to publish them several months in advance of the printed report.

|From our own correspondent.|

London, Saturday, April 19, 1873.

Notwithstanding the holidays, business has been fairly active this week, and a tolerably healthy tone has prevailed. There have, however, been some failures, and it is expected that several others will take place, but it is not anticipated that they will be for any considerable amounts. Some failures are also reported from Belgium and Switzerland, partly in the sllk trade, but chiefly in general business. As regards money, there is no material change, but the Bank return points to higher rather than lower rates of discount. The proportion of reserve to liabilities is now somewhat under 33 per cent, but an improvement is expected, as the circulation of gold, which has of late been extended by the quarterly payments, will soon return to its normal amount. It is evident, nevertheless, that our supply of gold is not likely to be angmented by increased foreign supplies. The demand for export is still sufficiently strong to absorb all arrivals, and hence a diminution rather than an increase in the stock of gold at the Bank is expected. In fact, the only sources whence an increase can arise are the return of gold from internal circulation and the arrival of sovereigns from Australia. The demand for money during the week has been to a fair average extent, and scarcely any accommodation has been obtainable under the Bank rate. Annexed are the quotations:

In the rates of foreign exchange there have been no material alterations.

The stock markets have been firm, more especially as regards British railway shares, the brilliant weather of the last fortnight having led to a large increase in the traffic receipts. The heliday traffic has been more than usually large, ewing to the very fine weather which has prevailed. The market for foreign stocks, excepting United States, which are firmer, has been dull, and Spanish stock has declined to 217 to 22, the financial news from Madrid being of a discouraging character. Argentine and Peruvian stocks have improved, the latter in consequence of the large importations of guane this year. In the Consol market there has been considerable firmness, owing to the favorable reports respecting the growing crops, and to the fact that the trov ernment broker has commenced his purchases for the reduction of the national debt at the rate of £40,000 per day. Erie shares are less firm, and have daily receded in price; but Illinois Central have somewhat recovered. The following were the closing prices of the principal American securities this afternoon:

The lean will be issued in six per cent. mortgage bonds, payable in gold, at the price of 97 per cent, or £194 per $1,000 bond, and interest will be payable half yearly in London, on March 1 and September 1 in each year. The prospectus states that no further issues can be made under the present mertgage, except to replace existing debts of the company, and that in no case will any more bends be issued on the London market before 1875.

The April-May series of Colonial wool sales are to commence on Thursday next, and will be continued to the end of May. The arrivals consist of 155,510 bales, viz., 12,218 bales from Sydney and Queensland, 67,766 Port Philip, 28,775 Adelaide, 2,045 Van Dieman's Land, 15,815 New Zealand, and 28,900 bales from the Cape of Good Hope. Of that quantity about 5,000 bales have been forwarded direct to Yerkshire and the Continent.

The trade for wheat has been exceedingly quiet during the week, but in the value of the better descriptions of produce there has been no material variation. Fine descriptions of English keep very scarce, and there being some, if not considerable, desire on the part of English farmers to sell their inferior produce, the prices for such descriptions are naturally very irregular. Tho quality of wheat now chiefly sought after is good red foreign, and that commands a ready sale at full prices for mixing purposes. Fine white foreign wheat is not in active request, and having arrived freely of late from California, is somewhat

A telegram from Adelaide, South Australia, states that 180,000 tons of wheat are available for export. The larger portion of that supply will, in all probability, however, be sent to the adjacent colonies of New South Wales and New Zealand.

The weather has of late been very fine both for the growing crops and for all agricultural operations. Although the area of land under wheat is below the average, yet the agricultural prospect is very encouraging, and an abundant yield of produce is anticipated. A large area of land is under barley, beans and petatoes, and the season being if anything rather backward, and there having been no late frests, there is every indication of a large crop of all kinds of fruit. It is estimated that about 64,400 acres of land are under hops this season.

-Messrs. Fisk & Hatch, the financial agents of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, have just issued a complete and handsome pamphlet showing the advantages of the Chesapeake & Ohio Road as a through freight and passenger route, and also containing information in regard to the agricultural and mineral resources along the line. All persons who now hold any of the Chesapeake & Ohio bonds, or who are interested in making inquiries as to the 1st mortgage gold sixes or the new gold sevens of this road, will find the pamphlet very interesting.

—The St. Louis & Sontheastern Railroad (consolidated) earned in March $114,420, or at an average of $1,373,064 for the year, being nearly $4,000 per mile operated. The interest on the present funded debt is less than $400,000 per year. Messrs. Winslow & Wilson, Bankers, No. 70 William street, are offering the first mortgage 7 per cent gold bonds of this company at 90, and recommend them very strongly as a safe and profitable investment. investment.

—The Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad bonds are reported by the agents, Messrs, Fairbanks & Co., to be selling well. Our readers will find a notice of this lean at some length in the Chronicle of April 26th, on page 546.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

BANKING HOUSE OF FISK & HATCH, 5 NASSAU STREET.

NEW YORK, May 2, 1873.

The present high price of Government Securities is increasing the demand for first-class Railroad Bonds; and as the amounts now offering are comparatively small, it is reasonable to suppose the present difference of from TWENTY to THIRTY per cent cannot be obtained for any great length of time. Government Bonds are higher now than for several years past. A "Five-Twenty" Bond at 120, paying six per cent on the par value, yields but a small income on its market price, and if an entirely safe investment can be obtained with a difference of 200 to 300 dollars on each 1,000, it is largely to the interest of the holders to make the exchange.

We are recommending the following for such Exchanges or for new investments-all of them payable in gold, principal and interest:

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SIX PER CENTS at 88 and accrned interest, interest payable May and November; these bonds are issued in deminations of $100, $500 and $1,000. The road, 420 miles in length, is now completed, and the business offering is very large, and increasing daily.

The WESTERN PACIFIC SIX PER CENTS at the market price, which is to-day 95, flat. These bonds are of $1,000 each; interest January and July. This road having been consolidated with the great CENTRAL PACIFIC, and payment of its bonds, principal and interest, assumed by them, we see no good reason why they should not soon approximate in price to Central Pacifics-now 103, and becoming very scarce in the market.

Also, the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SEVEN PER CENTS, interest payable January and July, secured by a First Mortgage on the Extension to deep water on the Chesepeake Bay, on the proposed Kanawha River Branch, and on the Great Bridge to be built over the Ohio River at Huntington, and a Second Mortgage on the Main Line, with all its equipments, depots, &c.

Only $3,000,000 of these Bonds will be offered for sale at present. Price 90 and accrued interest.

We consider them amply secured, and a very desirable investment. The proceeds will be used in adding largely to to the present equipment, and in extending to deep water on the Chesa. peake Bay, where the largest steamers in the world can load and unload alonside the cars.

The amount of money to be invested within the next few months will be very large; the Government disbursement alone for the next three months will reach $100,000,000, and the May and July dividends of the banks, railroads and other corporations as much more.

We continue to deal in Government and Central Pacific Bonds, receive deposits on which we allow interest, make collections, execute orders at the Stock Exchange per cash, and conduct a general banking business. FISK & HATCH.

  - 3. They are a first lien on its Net Earnings.
- 4. There is pledged, in addition, for the payment of principal and interest, a Land Grant of 12,800 acres per mile through the States, and 25,600 acres per mile through the Territories traversed. The Money Market.—The week has been attended with some excitement, chiefly in consequence of the failure on Saturday last, April 26, of the Atlantic National Bank, and the subsequent rumors which have been put afloat in regard to the solvency of various other banks. As to the latter, however, their effect has been only temporary, as they arose from the excitement of the moment. The failure of the Atlantic Bank was a bad one, as it occurred through the delalcations of its cashier to the extent of over $400,000, which he alleges that he has lost through stock speculations. The Clearing House Committee report substantially that the bank has available assets of $550,000 to meet liabilities of $615,000, and that there is also a liability of $162,000 for securities belonging to country correspondents, which the cashier has appropriated, thus leaving a deficit of $227,000. The stockholders are liable to assessments to the extent of their etock, being $300,000, and these, if paid, will protect the depositors and other creditors.

Three important subjects, although not new, are preminently brought before the public by this failure. First, as to the responsibility for certified checks deposited before the failure of the bank making the certification; secondly, as to the extent to which the Presient and Directors of such a bank are morally responsible for the defalcation; and, thirdly, the risk attached to the helding of stock in a national bank.

During the early days of the week the money market continued to show a gradual relaxation, with loans made from 7 per cent currency up to 1-32 and interest, the highest rates being generally made in the afternoon, when those parties who had not taken the precaution to make up their accounts were obliged to bid up the market. On Thursday there was quite a sharp pressure on the market, with an advance to ½ per cent, which was the result of calling in loans to pay May interest by various corporations, assisted perhaps by some speculative manipulation. To-day the market continued very stringent in the morning, but was easier in the afternoon, when rates declined before three o'clock to 7 per cent per annum. The express companies continue to report free receipts of currency this week, and without artificial manœuvering to keep money up, there is every prospect of a better market soon. Business in commercial paper has been considerable on a basis of 9@12 per cent for prime names.

Cable dispatches from London yesterday reported a decrease of £55,000 in the Bank of England bullion this week, the discount rate remaining unchanged at 4 per cent. The Bank of France gains 3,000,000 francs in specie.

The last statement of our city banks (April 26) showed a

The last statement of our city banks (April 26) showed a decrease in the deficiency of reserves of $674,675, so us to leave a total deficiency of only $309,275 below the 25 per cent required by law. The total liabilities were $215,958,300, and the reserves $53,630,300. In the national banks there was an excess of $319,400.

The following statement shows the changes from previous week and a comparison with 1872 and 1871:

United States Bonds.—There has been some movement of Government bonds from the country to this market, attracted by the recent advance in prices, precisely such as we suggested in our report of last week, would probably take place; and this, with the lower range of gold has bad a tendency to depress prices. The inherent strength of the market is well shown, however, in the fact that the decline has been slight, and the closing prices of to-day are generally but a small fraction lower than those of last week. The demand from foreign buyers is still active, and there is also more inquiry from domestic purchasers in this vicinity.

Closing prices daily have been as follows:

State and Railroad Bonds.—Transactions in State bonds have been quite limited, and the total sales recorded on the Stock Exchange lists present but an insignificant amount. There is no definite intelligence of importance from any of the Southern States affecting the value of their securities. Railroad bonds have continued to show a little more activity, and if the money market becomes reasonably easy and the high prices of Government bonds are maintained, there is hardly a doubt but that the demand for first-class railroad bonds will largely increase. A default has occurred in the May interest of the Mobile and Montgomery Railroad 8 per cent. bonds, but it is hoped that it will not be of long

Railroad and Miscella neous Stocks._ -The stock market Railroad and Miscella neous Stocks.—The stock market showed a weak tone in the first part of this week under the depression which came from the failure of the Atlantic Bank and consequent rumors put afteat in regard to other banks. There was atterwards a rather firmer feeling which was again lost on Thursday when the rates for money advanced to ‡ per cent. a day, and the failure was also announced of a Wall street house of respectable standing though not heavily interested in stocks. The quick reaction which has followed each turn towards firmer prices seems to indicate that the market at present is lacking in any strong and hearty support from the bull party. If the money prices seems to indicate that the market at present is lacking in any strong and hearty support from the bull party. If the money market settles down to a condition which seems to encourage the idea of a continuance of fairly easy rates, it is possible that more activity and higher prices will be seen.

To day there was no special feature, and the general market was dull, with a tendency to weakness.

The Gold Market .- Gold has been without any movement of much interest, and the tendency has been towards a lower price, although the actual decline has not been large. The payment of Government May interest began on Monday; the total amount is $17,174,882, of which $1,500,000 had been rebated. The steamer Scotia brought in $500,000 in English coin this

The gold speculation is held in check for the time being by the considerable disbursements coming on the market, and whether another advance will be tried after the first of May is well past, remains yet to be seen. At the first Treasury sale this month of $1,500,000 on Thursday the total bids amounted to $3,915,000. On the first of June commences the redemption of $50,000,000, called five-twentics. On gold loans the rates paid for carrying to-day were 7, 1.33 gold, and 7 per cent and flat for borrowing. Customs receipts of the week have been $2,081,000.

The following table will show the course of the gold premium

In the afternoon there was decidedly 108\frac{1}{2} and 109 respectively. In the afternoon there was decidedly more firmness, and rates were \frac{1}{4} per cent higher. The President remarks: "It will be perceived that the net earnings for the year 1872 (amounting to $960,683 51) are amply sufficient to pay the annual interest on the entire bonded debt of the Allegheny Valley and Low Grade roads, without having as yet received any income from the latter road.

"During the summer of 1872 it became known to your Board that the Philadelphia, & Erie Railroad Company were willing to dispose of a controlling interest which it held in the stock of the Oil Creek & Allegheny River Railroad Company. Your President immediately opened negotiations for its purchase, and en the 8th day of August, 1872, a contract was closed by which the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company became owner of a sufficient amount of this stock to give your company control of the Oil Creek & Allegheny River Railway, and it is now operated by your company. your company.

"The route selected for the Low Grade starts from the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad at Driftwood, and connects with the Allegheny Valley at the junction of the Red Bank creek with the Allegheny river, a distance of 110 miles from Driftwood.

"The prospective advantages and value of the line known as the Low Grade Road, are spoken of in high terms. Your managers think that they will be ready to open that portion of your road extending from the mouth of Red Bank to New Bethelem, a distance of twenty-one miles, by the middle of April. They expect to reach Brookville, a further distance of about twenty miles, by the first of June, and the Summit tunnel, a further distance of twenty-four miles, by the 1st of July, and they hope to complete the line through to Driftwood, where it connects with the Philadelphia & Eric Railroad, by the middle of September or the 1st of October, 1873."

Picimont Railroad.—Legal proceedings have for some time past been pending in the courts against the Picdmont Railroad in Virginia on a mortgage. The Attorneyed and used in the interests of the rebellion. The Attorney-General has decided that the President's proclamation of pardon of 1868 operated so as to restore to the corporators or stockholders all their rights, and therefore the right of the government to seize the road is barred. All proceedings against the road will be dropped. The interests at issue were about a million and a half of dollars.

The officers of the Southern Railroad Company have been the subject of very general discussion in railroad and financial circles. Memphis & Charleston.—The Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche says that Mr. R. T. Wilson of New York has agreed to place the new income bonds of the company, on certain conditions, which have been accepted by the company. In the first place the maturity of the bonds, originally fixed at one to ten years, is to be changed to six months to five years, and secondly the Trustee is to be vested with more power, looking to the security of the holders of the bonds. By the terms of the lease of the road to the Southern Security Company, the Memphis & Charleston Railroad Company is empowered, in the event of default of payment of ren:al, to dispossess the lessees within ninety days after such default. It is stipulated that the Trustee shall have equal power. Under this arrangement the amount of bonds will be $600,000, bearing 10 per cent interest. Of this amount $50,000 at each date will become due September 15, 1873, March 15, 1874, and September 15, 1874; $55,000, March 15 and September 15, 1876; $66,000, March 15, 1876; $670,000, March 15, 1878. The amount of rental, therefore, against the bonds and interest as above, will by the time of the last maturity amount to $045,000 receivable, semi-annually. amount to $945,000, receivable semi-annually.

loau of $10,000,000.

The new directors, who represent in a great degree the interests of the Eric Railway, intend to issue $10,000,000 of securities of the New York and New England Railroad. Three million dollars of these they will probably exchange for $3,000,000 of old underlying bonds or liens on the consolidated railroads. The other $7,000,000 will be devoted to completing the road from Waterbury to Fishkill, a distance of 77 miles. The total length of the line will then be about 400 miles. The administration of the Eric Railway is desirous of having the line completed, as it is a valuable connection, and can be made the medium of supplying New England with millions of dollars worth of coal. ### The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, May 2, 1873.

The feature of the markets noted last week-the simultaneous advance in the prices of leading staples of domestic produce—has been nearly reversed in the week under review. Cotton for future delivery, breadstuffs, hog products and naval stores have all declined; while refined petroleum has lost a portion of the advance which took place early in the week. The great channels of inland navigation are now all open, except the canals of this State, and they are to be opened on the 15th inst. There has been a better distributing demand for "groceries," and some other articles of foreign merchandise; and altogether the course of affairs in trade circles, notwithstanding the decline in prices noted above, has been as tavorable as could have been expected.

The following is a statement of the stocks of leading articles of domestic and foreign merchandise, at dates given:

The market the past week has been dull, and yet it has ruled quite firm. Quotations for spot cotton were at our last considerably below early futures, and this circumstauce, together with small receipts at our ports and a little steadier feeling at Liverpool, resulted in an advance on Monday of $\frac{1}{4}c.$, which was maintained throughout Tuesday but lost on Wednesday. Thursday, with a more favorable report from Liverpool, there was increased activity, one line of 2,000 bales being taken for export; but to-day, with the Liverpool advices quiet, little was done, and the close here was also quiet at the quotations of last Friday. For future delivery there has been considerable doing, but the market has lacked spirit. Early in the week there were many exchanges of maturing contracts for those running to the later months. Prices gradually weakened until the opening of Thursday's business, when Liverpool came in with an unexpectedly favorable report, with 1-16d, advance for early deliveries, and in the course of that day prices were $\frac{3}{6}\frac{3}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1}{6}\frac{1

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Our reports by telegraph to-night indicate with limited exceptions a condition of the crop much more favorable than the promise of a week ago. In the first place the injury from the frosts is generally spoken of as much less than anticipated, but little over one-fifth of the crop, except in the extreme Gulf States, being up (dry weather having delayed the germination of the seed), and of the amount up only a small portion being affected. Then again a line rain, of from two to four days' duration, has visited the cotton States which was very greatly needed, and will be very beneficial. At New Orleans they have had rain on one day—a thunderstorm. Our Mobile disputch states that during two days they have had fine showers there, and the indications are that the rain has been general, extending over a wide surface. At Montgomery and Selma the rain has been continued through four days, and has been heavy, though as the week closes there is a favorable change. Our correspondents at Selma also add that the rain has been general and very satisfactory, as it was badly needed. It has rained three days at Columbus and Macon, with a return of clear weather the latter part of the week. At Angusta during more than half the week they have had delightful showers, and at Charleston they have also had frequent showers. Our correspondent at Memphis states that they have had rain on three days, and that the last was very severe, doing much damage to planting; much of the seed planted has failed to come up on account of the unfavorable weather. At Nashville it has rained on two days. The thermometer at Memphis has averaged 59, Macon 66, Columbus 68, Montgomery 67, Mobile 69 and Selma 70.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable dispatch received to-day, there have been 35,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week and 4,000 bales to the continent, while the receipts at Bombay, during the same time have been 38,000 bales. The movement since the first of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, May 1:

| Shipments this week to | Great | Gondard | Great | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gondard | Gon

From the feregoing it would appear that compared with last year there is an increase this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to all of Europe of 22,000 bales, and that the total movement since Jan. 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 104,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1872.

Gunny Bags, Bagging, &c.—We note more inquiry for bagging the past few days, both from dealers here and from the South. Sales the past week aggregate 3,500 rolls. During the late money stringency sales of round lots were made, both here and in Boston, at 12½c., cash. We now quote the market at 13 7 13½c., cash, and know that 13½c. was refused for one lot of 1,000 rolls. June, July, August and September deliveries, standard brands and full weights can be bought at 14½@15c., c. o. d. Bale cloth is dull and nominal, without sales. We quote 10c. currency, cash. The stock in New York and Boston is about 26,000 bales, and imports have about ceased. We have no sales of bags to report for the past week, and quotations remain nominally at 15c. for heavy weights. The transactions of butts comprise 3,000 bales at 2@2 1-16c., cash, averaged 2½@2 3-16c., 60 days. The market closes in favor of buyers, but with increased orders coming in. The consumption for April was 10,600 bales, and shipments from Calcutta, 15,000 bales. We quote 2c. cash, to 2 3-16c. time, with a shading of 1 per cent ou large lots.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY P. M., May 2, 1873.

The flour market has been depressed, and prices for the week show some decline. The demand has been very fair and general and prices below the parity of wheat, but receipts have been liberal, and the shipments eastward from the Western markets have materially increased, while receivers have continued to show a disposition to sell promptly from the wharf. Low grades, such as No. 2 and superfine, have been most depressed. Common extras have declined to $6 83@7, at which there has been a pretty tair movement; the medium and better grades of extras, as well as double extras, have ruled rather more steady, but have been comparatively slow of sale. Their production, in view of the scarcity of fine wheats, is somewhat curtailed. To day, the market was steady, but owing to the rain, generally quiet.

The wheat market has been less active and very unaettled latterly as respects both tone and prices. Early in the week Spring Wheat brought the full closing prices of last Friday, and No. 2 Milwaukee brought $1 62 for June arrival, but since Monday business has been limited and prices have developed weakness. Navigation of the Great Lakes has been resumed, and large quantities of wheat have cleared from Chicago and Milwaukee for Buffalo and Oswego. The Erie Canal is to be opened ou the 15th, and we shall probably have large supplies the last week in May. To day the market was firmer for fine wheats, with the supply much reduced. No. 2 Chicago Spring sold at $164 afloat, and No. 2 Milwankee at $168 in store, closing with buyers at the latter price, and $1 67 bid for early receipts by rail. It was reported that there were orders from the Continent.

Indian corn has been firmer, stocks have been materially re duced and receipts by rail have been small. Old Western mixed ndvanced to 70c in store, and new sold as high as 71 w71 tc. affoat; but latterly there has been less speculation, and shippers have partially withdrawn. Yesterday prime old mixed closed at 68c, in store, and fair to prime new sold at 69@70c. To-day the price of new corn was sustained, the supply being small, but prime old mixed in store was offered at 68c., with bid reduced to 67c.

Rye has been held for a further advance, without business, Barley has been dult ad drooping.

Oats broke down yesterday to 50:g514c, for dark and mixed new Western, and 52@53{c. for white do., and sold freely at some further concession, very few mixed bringing over 51c., or white ovor 53c.

GROCERIES.

FUIDAY EVENING, May 2, 1873.

There has been rather more business during the past week, and prices are for the most part maintained with more steadiness than was noted at the time of our last review. Coffee has hardened somewhat on the lower grades, and is held at a shade better prices. Tea is selling rather more freely, but quotable values are without essential change. Sugar has exhibited more steadiness both in raws and refined. Molasses sells well to tho trade, and all grocery grades are fully maintained, while refining qualities lack firmness and sell only to a very limited extent.

TEA.

There has been a further improvement in the demand for lines during the past week, and more activity is reported in invoices to replenish the stocks of jobbers, which have been allowed to run down to a pretty low point during the past few weeks. Greens seem to have been chiefly in request, and the feeling among importers in regard to these grades is much more hopeful. There is no quotable improvement in the prices at which invoices can be placed as yet, but holders avoid making any further concessions, and buyers operate more willingly on the previously quoted basis. Japans have shared the improvement to some extent, and close firmer with a fair call for all qualities. The market for Oolongs remains somewhat irregular, but shows rather more steadiness than for a considerable time back, with a better trade doing in lines. The invoice sales foot up 5,000 half chests Greens, 2,000 do. Japans, and 850 do Oelongs.

There have been no importations of tea the past week.

The following table shows the imports of Tea into the United States from January 1 to date, in 1873 and 1872:

COFFEE.

The demand for the Brazil grades has been fairly active and considerable business has been done, the sales being principally in the way of small invoices to go into distribution. With the trade running largely upon the lower grades, these qualities have improved considerably and prices are revised, both ordinary and fair Rio being' quoted at a slight advance. The position of the market'is in all respects tavorable for holders, and buyers seem to recognize the steady tone and purchase with more apparent confidence. The supply is kept down pretty well, and neither the available stock nor the afloats are of sufficient weight to weaken values. The India coffees remain strong and the supply is small. The stock of pale grades has seldom been lighter than at present, and by reason of this fact holders are increasing their pretensions somewhat, and prices are tending toward an improvement. The sales of all grades since our last report have included 700 bags Rio ex "Alice"; 1,504 do. ex "South America;" 2,002 do. ex "Flomsteed;" 500 do. ex "Merrimack;" 1,750 Santos ex "Mozart;" 2,681 Rio ex "Gassendi;" 2,000 do. ex "Contest;" 2,646 do. ex "Juno;" 4,863 mats Java, 543 do. do., 1,915 bags Maracaibo, 1,128 do. Ceylon, 884 do, Laguayra, 513 do, Costa Rica, 348 do. Mexican, 247 do, Curacoa, all sold into consumption, and 760 bags St. Domingo, shipped to Europe by first into consumption, and 760 bags St. Doomigo, shipped to Europe by first hands. At the out-ports we note 3,000 hags Rio, ex "Aquidneck;" 680 do. ex "New Light," and 1,500 do. to arrive per "Amazon," all at Baltimore; 2,422 do. ex "Pepita," and 1,361 do. ex "Eros," at New Orleans.

Imports the past week have included 9,171 bags Rio, per "Gassendt," 5,440 do. do. and 4,600 do Santos per "Bernard;" and about 4,000 bags Porto Rico, Jamaica and Curacoa.

SUGAR.

Refiners continue to be moderate buyers of goods suited to their wants, and a fair business is in progress. Goods have been taken from the wharf with more freedom than for some time previous, and holders have shown a disposition to realize rather better rates. Prices have improved a fraction, and at the close there is a strong feeling on the basis of 7%@8c. for fair to good refining Cuba. Centrifugals continue to sell freely, and are firmly held at our There has been a very limited business in grocery sugars, but quoted range. the rates on these descriptions continue to be well maintained. ## MOLASSES.

There has been less call for refining grades of molasses during the week, and but little business has been closed. Holders would accept a trifle under the bighest quoted extreme for refining grades, but buyers are not anxious to operate even at a reduction. Supplies of grocery molasses are coming forward more liberally, and the market is becoming rather more active in consequence, the offerings of more liberal assortments stimulating buyers to make The trade wants are increasing, and buyers are operating freely in domestic grades, especially at prices which show a firm feeling. Auction sales of domestic have been made at full rates, and the market closes strong, the range being quoted the same as last week. Syrnps are in fair demand, but sales are chiefly in small lots, and prices are not especially buoyant. We note sales since our last of 75 hhds. Porto Rico, 25 Demerars, 200 bbls. Barbadoes, new crop, and 250 bbls. New Orleans, all at our quoted rates.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., May 2, 1873.

The easing up of money has been beneficial to trade in dry goods during the past week, and a better business is reported than for some time previous. The reduction of freights to the West has also had the effect of bringing in a good representation of Western and State buyers who had previously purchased chiefly by orders, or during their former visits to the market had taken only such limited amounts of goods as were necessary to meet their immediate requirements. Now that money has eased up, there is more disposition to operate, although purchases are likely to be marked by a great deal of caution in consequence of the very advanced period of the season. There is a likelihood that jobbers will be able to clear out the bulk of their stocks, and will come out of the season with fair profits, although the sales and returns will both fall below their expectations. With the commission houses the season will average fairly, as the sales of most of the better lines of goods have been on a pretty liberal scale, and the deficiencies in the lower lines will be made up by these transactions. Woolen goods have been a disappointment, but perhaps no more so, all things considered, than they have been for the past two or three seasons. Collections are still some. what slow, but are reported as becoming rather easier.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.-There has been an improved jobbing distribution, and the stocks of the leading makes of brown cottons in first hands have been considerably reduced, The demand for full packages has been somewhat increased, and some of the leading brands of standard grades have been contracted for largely in advance of the production. The less popular makes and lower grades have not met so liberal distribution, and the range of prices has been revised to some extent on these qualities. There is a decided lowering of rates on some makes with more steadiness at the decline but very little increase in sales. Bleached goods have sold fairly, but the tendency of the market has been toward lower prices, and some of the medium and fine grades of shirtings have experienced a reduction since our last. On colored cottons there has been more steadiness, but the transactions closed during the week have not been sufficiently liberal to materially reduce the supply in first hands, although jobbers have disposed of considerable many goods. Printing cloths have been in better demand and have become steadier, which gives a little more hardness to prints at the previous quotations. Ginghams have been quiet and are without change to note. Other cotton goods are in limited demand and generally rule steady.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—The more staple varieties of woolens of medium and fine grades have sold to a moderate extent, and the supply is pretty well reduced, while prices show a fair degree of steadiness but cannot be considered especially buoyant. The poorer grades of cassimeres and faced goods have been dull, and the market for these descriptions is very irregular, prices being barely quotable in the absence of sales. The decline in wool has depressed values of goods to some extent, although goods have been relatively lower than the raw material for sometime past, and should not be affected by any decline in that commodity. Flannels remain flat and heavy, with no important sales. Other woolen goods are selling moderately, but in no branch is there a very satisfactory degree of activity, and prices on all lines are rather heavy.

Foreign Goods.—The distribution of foreign goods through the jobbing houses has been more active this week than for some time before. The sales from first hands have not been liberal, and the market fails to show many more favorable signs than it did at the time of our last report. The arrivals of foreign fabrics have fallen off materially, but the season is so far advanced that there is but a small prospect of holders being able to clear out their goods except at prices which will afford no remunerative margin above the cost of landing. The auction sales do not realize very satisfactory prices, but a great many goods have been disposed of through these channels during the season, and the offerings are still liberal. Staple fabrics are firmly held at the current rates, but strictly Spring and Summer goods are easier.

We annex a few particulars of leading articles of domestic manufacture our prices quoted being those of leading jobbers:

THE TURNING OF THE TIDE.

The increase of eight millions in deposits in our city banks last week, with only one-sixth of that increase in loans, gave almost five millions of new strength to the reserves. and thus imparted a new and cheering impulse to the overstrained machinery of business. As was indicated last week, we have had no further trouble among the banks. Still a profound shock has been given to public confidence by the defalcations and failures which have occurred, and our conservative corporations and private firms will do well to redouble their precautions both to discover peculation and frauds if they have crept in already, and to prevent them if they threaten in the future,

A movement is on foot to make some new efforts to stop the locking up of currency. It is well known that the act of Feb. 19, 1869, directs that "no national banking association shall hereafter offer or receive United States notes or national bank notes as security, or as collateral security, for any loan of money, or for a consideration shall agree to withhold the same from use, or shall offer or receive the custody or promise of custody of such notes as security, or us collateral accurity, or consideration, for any loan of money." There is also a Clearing House resolution to the effect that "the Clearing-House Committee be and is hereby directed, whenever it appears, in its judgment, that legaltender notes have been withdrawn from use through the agency of any bank, member of the association, to make an immediate examination of the bank in question, and should there appear to be complicity on the part of the bank or its officials, to suspend said bank from the Clearing-House until action of the association shall be taken thereon.'

Moreover, there is the further safeguard of an inspection by the bank examiner. This was exemplified on a memorable occasion, when, as is well remembered, considerable public excitement was produced by the announcement, at a critical conjuncture in the money market, that a bank in this city, whose average exchanges did not exceed $300,000, was reported creditor at the Clearing House for the unprec:dented amount of $4,770,000. As this sum could searcely be held to arise from legitimate business, the Examiner was at once sent to the bank by the Comptroller of the Currency, and a thorough investigation was made by him in connection with a member of the Clearing House Committee. The books of the bank showed that certain deposits had been made by one of its customers to the amount of $4,100,000, the whole of which sum was drawn out on cheques of the depositor, in legal tender notes. The President of the bank averred that the institution had directly or indirectly no interest whatever in these questionable transactions; and no evidence could be discovered of any loan, or of any advances on these deposits. The Bank Committee of the House of Representatives subsequently made a thorough investigation of the whole of the facts; and although no further action was taken, still the moral effect of the inquiry was so decisive that neither that bank nor any other has since been suspected of repeating any similar irregularity. The force of public opinion sets so strongly in antipathy to the locking up of greenbacks that there would be little fear of any of our city banks in good credit venturing to implicate itself, even were the legal consequences less serious than they undoubtedly are.

From these stringent precautions it is plain that the locking up of greenbacks has to be done without the aid of the city banks, so that any malfeasance of this sort is confined within narrow limits, and its perpetrators are exposed to quick and sure detection if proper means are used. What is further needful is, that the Stock Exchange and the private bankers shall cordially unite with the Clearing House, so that the disgrace of illegitimate transactions of this sort shall not longer be suffered to disturb public and private credit, but shall at once be stopped, as they would have been long ago in any other country than cur own. A tight loan market is expected in the Fall. We must take care that the natural stringency, which cannot be averted, shall not be augmented and made more disastrous by the machinations of reckless gamblers in money.

The advance in the rate of the Bank of England, on Thursday, has produced very little impression here for several reasons. In the first place, it is not believed that the drain of bullion from the Bank for Germany will be kept up, as the silver coinage must shortly begin to demand the whole force of the Imperial mint, and the 5 mark gold pieces, which are the only gold coins for which there is likely to be at present much demand, will not require the importation of any considerable aggregate of bullion. If this view prove correct, then the plethora of capital now offering in the English money market is regarded as certain to keep money easy in London, notwithstanding the temporary trouble in the Continental loan markets.

On these and other grounds to which we need not advert, there is little disposition to regard the rise in the rate of the Bank as indicative of any monetary activity in London which need cause derangement here. Consequently our money market shows the full power of the relaxing forces now at work to give ease to our loan market. The deposits and reserves are so rapidly increasing that the banks have shown an unusual alacrity in discounting, and the consequence has been that a large amount of paper has been attracted from the recesses in which it has so long lain hidden, and some strong houses have been taking advantage of the market to buy up and withdraw some of their floating engagements. The consequence is that the monetary situation is irregular, and rates for loans rule somewhat firmer. It is also to be observed oall loans seem higher because government collaterals are now more scarce than formerly, for, as is well known, the banks will lend on Governments at lower rates than on other collaterals, however unexceptional the latter may be. Now we have exported so large a portion of our five-twenties; our savings banks have recently been strengthening themselves by buying so large a proportion of these and other Government bonds; and there is such a disposition among the investing public to hold Government bonds in preference to other securities, that the amount of five twenties in market is really very small, and the few offered as collaterals are for the most part called bonds of 1862, which are lying here awaiting redemption in July next. The money market appears, then, if we make due allowance for all the pressure which it has sustained since October last, to be in a hopeful state of recuperation.

NEW FACILITIES FOR ATTRACTING FOREIGN CAPITAL.

Several important movements have been started of late by capitalists in London to enlarge the facilities there for investment in United States securities. During 1872 it was computed that the English investments in our railroad bonds, five-twenties and municipal securities were over 85 millions; and that nearly half as much more was absorbed in Erie and other railroad and miscellaneous stocks. The belief is indulged by intelligent observers on both sides of the Atlantic, that this year a much larger sum may be attracted hither with advantage both to the investors themselves and to our numerous public enterprises of sterling worth that need capital and can ensure it more ample returns than can usually be had with the same amount of safety in Europe.

Among the organizations in London which have thus risen up, one of the more recent is the "American Investment Trust." The principles on which it is constituted, and the personnel of its management, are to be the same as those of the Foreign and Colonial Government Trust, which has met with popularity and success, being very judicious in its character and diffusing its investments over distant parts of the world. This wide diffusion is not so great in the new Trust, which is as we have said, to be exclusively confined to investments on the American continent, and chiefly in Canada and the United States. These investments are to be "limited to bonds of the Governments, States, cities, counties and public undertakings, especially railroads and public works, and also in paid up shares of undertakings actually earning incomes," and the net return anticipated in the prospectus is set down at seven per cent or upwards. The certificates of the Association are to bear interest at 6 per cent. They are issued at 95, and are redeemable by a sinking fund at 105. This sinking fund is to be accumulated by the excess of profits over expenses and interest, but of course it is not fixed at any specified annual aggregate. The Association is to last for 30 years, or till the sinking fund has redeemed all the certificates. Should any surplus remain after such redemption, it is to be equally divided among the owners of the certificates. This final division and its legal ownership are secured by the Reversion Certificates, as they are called, one of which is allotted to each ordinary certificate. Thus a person putting £95 into this Trust receives therefor first a SIX per cent certificate to bearer for £100, which is redeemable at £105 out of the surplus income of profits derived from the realization of investments; and secondly, a reversion certificate, entitling the holder to a pro rata share of the Trust Fund after redemption of the six per cent certificates. The redemption is to be made yearly, beginning in March, 1876, and if the income for any one year should fall below the amount required for interest, the deficiency will form a first charge on all subsequent receipts, subject only to the annual expenses, which are to be limited to £2,500 a year, and cannot be increased except by the Certificate Holders' Committee. The bankers of the Trust are Messrs. Glyn & Co., and the Trustees are the same as those of the Foreign and Colonial Trust, which is reported, as we have said, to be doing a lucrative business.

Such are the general features of this new organization. the success of which depends, of course, on two conditionsfirst, the confidence with which it may inspire capitalists and investors; and secondly, the judicious selection of the securities in which the funds of the association shall be placed. To secure these points it is obvious that the management and responsibility must be concentrated in few hands. Indeed it is the two trustees alone who are to have the selection of the investments, and they hold also the power to place the funds temporarily in Government stocks and bonds of the United States and Canada till good investments at a higher rate are found for permanent holding. This control is not, however, without a check. The trustees are required, at the recommendation of the Committee of the certificate-holders, to change any of the investments when circumstances render it advisable. And a fundamental rule of the association is that not more than one-tenth of the funds are to be invested in any one security; for, as the promoters state, it is the object of the association "to enable the moderate investor to spread his investment over a number of different securities recommended by competent advisers as intrinsically sound and likely to increase in value.". To secure this information the leading American bankers in London are said to have been applied to and to have promised their help, so that the trustees indulge the hope that with the machinery a their disposal they will be able to popularize among the multitude of small investors in England such securities as have heretofore been beyond their reach, and have either been shut out of the British market altogether or have been monopolized by persons having large means, with facilities for obtaining accurate information. Relying on these promises and engagements, and on the high character and standing of the trustees, the public will have, we trustadequate safeguards against being led into the ruinous policy of locking up their means in such securities as Emma Mining stocks, Rockford & Rock Island Railroad bonds, and other pretentious frauds which have so much discouraged American investments in Europe.

We have frequently discussed of late the new impulses which urge English capital to invest itself in American securities. Their activity is likely to call into existence other associations such as that, we have described, and to give them full employment. The field for investment on this continent is so wide, the need of new capital so urgent, and the increase of our population and material wealth gives every year such new additions to the security of our railroad and other bonds, that if such associations as the American Investment Trust do not succeed in making good profits for their constituents, and in building up a large and safe international business in railroad and municipal securities, the fault will be in their own incapa city and mismanagement rather than in the want of opportunity.

CHANGES IN THE NATIONAL BANKING SYSTEM.

Have we weakened the preponderance of New York as the financial centre of the National banking system? This question is proposed by an intelligent correspondent, whose elaborate letter we regret our inability to publish. illustrate what he means we give the subjoined table, showing how the changes of the past six years have given increasing predominance to the country banks over those of New York. For this purpose the table divides the whole of our banks throughout the United States into two groups, the first comprising the New York banks, and the second comprising all the others:

From these figures it appears that during the six years since January, 1867, the capital of the New York banks has diminished nearly 4 millions, while the capital of the other banks has increased 69 millions. On the other hand the circulation of the New York banks has been reduced six millions, and the circulation of the country banks has increased fifty-one millions. From this it is inferred that the relative strength of the banks of this city to the banks outside of it must have very materially changed in 1873 from that prevailing in 1867. This change is due almost wholly to causes which have been in full operation two or three years only. This is shown from the fact that the increase of the country-bank capital, which is the main seat of the change, has taken place in the last half of the period under review. For in the first three years, from 1867 to 1870, the capital increased only 9 millious, but in the last three years the increase was no less than 60 millions.

What were these new forces which were thus at work in our banking system? They are well known. We find them almost wholly in the law of July 12, 1870. They constituto one part of the evils which THE CHRONICLE warned Congress to expect from that statute. Our readers remember what this law of 1870 was enacted for. It created new bank notes to the extent of 54 millions, and it authorized a withdrawal of 25 millions of notes from banks in the Eastern States and the redistribution of these notes among the banks of the South and West. In other words, it offered a premium on the formation of new banks all over the country, and the stimulus was responded to by the addition of 9 millions of eapital in 1870, 30 millions in 1871, and 21 millions in 1872. Nor is the whole result completed yet-The "scaling down" process has not yet begun. The 25 millions of currency to be withdrawn from the Eastern banks and given to those of the South and West have still to be allotted. A letter from the Comptroller of the Currency to the banks was lately published on this subject, and that officer admonishes them that it will be his duty to take proceedings, under this law, and to make the requisite allotments towards the close of this year. On other causes of the change under discussion we need not now dwell. It would be of much practical use if some competent hand would trace out the troubles which these changes have projected on the money market. And the first circumstance which exploration should attack is that notorious want of elasticity which has been a growing evil for several years past. This inelasticity is twofoldfirst affecting the currency, and secondly affecting the deposits, accumulating between seasons in our city banks. Various theories have been devised to account for the fact that the inelasticity has been much worse since 1870 than ever before, and it is well worthy of inquiry how far it is due to this tampering with the relations of the metropolitan and exterior parts of the banking system, and to a disturbance of the general symmetry of the whole machinery. We know what dangers a nicely balanced mechanism is liable to undergo if the peripheral parts gain weight while the central parts are at the same time weakened and made less able to resist the new pressure. If patient investigation should confirm the inference we have suggested; if it be found that the country banks have been really too rapidly extended; then it will be incumbent on us to ask whether all further action under the law of 1870 should not for the present cease, and whether any further attempts to stimulate the growth of the country banks should not be stopped. If the business of the country needs new banks, these institutions will grow up where they are wanted, of their own accord; and if they are not needed to meet the legitimate growth of business, is it not unwise to throw our whole banking system into disorder with a view to galvanize such new institutions into a futile and feeble existence?

But there is another inquiry well worthy of note. The country banks are allowed to hold but 15 per cent of reserve. while a reserve of 25 per cent is exacted from the banks of the redeeming cities outside of New York; and all these outside banks are allowed to reckon their New York cash balances as part of their reserve. This adjustment was a safe one when the country banks were not so preponderant, but under the new conditions to which we have directed attention it may perhaps be needful to raise the requirement of reserve to a higher level. We know it is claimed by some persons that the 25 per cent restriction causes stringency in the money market, and should be taken off altogother. But if this restriction were the true cause of the late stringency, why did not the reserves cause the same stringency during the first years of the national banking law? Why did the trouble stay its development till a change was made in the law enlarging the banking machinery and narrowing the basis on which that machinery rests? Our correspondent answers this question. Obviously there is a fair presumption in his favor when he says that the fall stringency, which has been growing in virulence since 1870, is due in part to such organic changes as have been pointed out in the banking system, and that as far as this stringency is due to the reserves of the national banks, it is caused by their being too small rather than too large; for it is wellknown that the average reserves of the banks have been smaller of late than ever before since the first enactment of the National Currency law.

RAILROAD EARNINGS IN APRIL, AND FROM JAN. 1 TO MAY 1.

The returns of railroad traffic for April are generally quite satisfactory. Several of the Western roads which suffered severely in their earnings from the extraordinary weather of January and February, now show an important recovery, so that their totals from Jan 1 to date are larger than for the same period in 1872. Freight which has been kept back during the Winter, on the lines of many roads having a large local traffic in grain and other agricultural products, must come forward as the Spring opens, and therefore the same causes which reduced earnings early in the Winter are operating to increase them now.

From the table below, it appears that on twenty-three roads the net increase in April amounts to $1,068,307, and three of the roads have received reports for only three weeks of the month:

LAKE SHORE & MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

(Returns for the Fiscal Year ended December 31, 1872.)

The railway known as the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern is the result of several consolidations. First in date was the consolidation of the Buffalo & State Line Railroad, extending from Buffale, N. Y., to the State line of Pennsylvania, 68 miles, with the Erie & Northeast Railroad, extending from the State line to Erie, Pa., 20 miles. This arrangement was perfected in 1867, under the name of the Buffalo & Erie Railroad Company. In March, 1869, the next step was taken—the Cleveland, Painesville & Ashtabula Railroad, extending from Erie, Pa., to Cleveland, O., 95 miles, and the Cleveland & Teledo Railroad, extending from Cleveland, O., to Toledo, O., 113 miles, having at that date been united under one organization, with the name of the Lake Shore Railway Company. In May of the same year (1869) the Michigan Southern & Northern Indiana, extending from Toledo, O., to Chicage, Ill., 244 miles, formed a consolidation with the latter company, under the name of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company; and in August, 1869, the Buffalo & Erie Railroad Company was consolidated with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company, under the name of the latter. These several changes have been legalized by the legislatures of the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois, thus forming one of the principal trunk lines between the East and the West, and making a continuous road, under one management, from Buffale, N. Y., to Chicage, Ill., 540 miles in length. The result of this combination appears to have been in every respect favorable, not only by furnishing to the country increased facilities of rapid transportation, but to the company itself by a steady yearly increase in the aggregate earnings; for while the average rate per ton of freight per mile has steadily tended downwards, being 1 37-100c. in 1872, against 1 39-100c. in 1871, the increase in the number of tons of freight moved has been sufficiently great to make the total earnings in 1872 241 per cent. larger than in 1871. As in the freight, so in the passenger business, the earnings showing an increase of 51 per cent, while the average rate per mile in 1872 was considerably less than in 1871, being 2 59-100c. against 2 79-100c. During the past year 186 miles of second track, mostly of steel rails, was constructed, at a cost of $3,165,727. This gives the company a double track railroad from Buffalo, 440 miles westward, to Elkhart, Ind. 100 miles east of Chicago. In addition to the new second track there was laid in 1872 fifty-three miles of side track, at a cost of $1,025,328. The Northern Division, from Elyria, O., via Sandusky, to the junction with the main line at Millbury, near Toledo, was completed early in 1872, at an expenditure of $309,881, making the total cost of this extension $942,615. The Ashtabula branch was also completed in 1872 at an expenditure of $224,498, making the total cost of this branch $1,161,601. These expenditures, together with those for the substitution of stone and iron bridges in place of wood, reconstruction of the passenger depot at Chicago, and the building of machine shops water tanks and other new structures imperatively demanded by the increased volume of business, make the entire outlay for construction during the year $5,504,217. The amount expended for additional equipment for the same period was $1,953,852. In his report, the President says that the company enters upon the year 1873 with the road and equipment in better condition than at

Detroit, Monroe & Toledo Rallroad—Toledo, O., to Detroit, Mich. 65 Kalamazoo & White Pigeon RR.—White Pigeon, Mich., to Kalamiles

The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern also has a large proprietary interest in the Jamestown & Franklin Railroad, extending from Jamestown (where it connects with the Ashtabula branch) to Oil City, Pa., 51 miles, and operates it under a lease for 60 per cent. of the earnings. It also has a lease of the Kalamazoo, Allegan & Grand Rapids Railroad, extending from Kalamazoo to Grand Rapids, Mich., 58 miles, the terms of which are the payment of interest on bonds and stock amounting to $103,800 per annum. That portion of the main line from Toledo, O., to Adrian, Mich., 33 miles, was acquired by a perpetual lease from the Erie & Kalamazeo Railroad Company at an annual rental of $30,000. Under a contract with the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis Railroad Company, the use of their track has been secured between Cleveland and Berea (12 miles) for all passenger trains, at an annual rental of $42,000 for sixty trains per week; for any trains beyond that number, $8 per train.

The capital stock of the company is $50,000,000. Of this sum $535,500 is the 10 per cent. guaranteed stock of the late Michigan Southern & Northern Indiana Railroad Company. The claim of the holders of a portion of this stock for dividends, from 1857 to 1863 (when dividends were not actually earned) is still in litigation. The claim on 3,506 of these shares has been released, leaving unreleased 1,829 shares. An annual dividend of 8 per cent—4 per cent February 1 and 4 per cent August 1—has been regularly paid since the consolidation of 1869; and 5 per cent February 1 and 5 per cent August 1 have been paid each year on the guaranteed stock.

To provide for the large expenditure necessary to complete the new double track, and to procure additional equipment, &c., the Board of Directors authorized the issue of bonds to the extent of $6,000,000. These bonds are dated October 1, 1872, and mature October 1, 1882. A sinking fund provides for the retirement of ten per cent, or $600,000 per annum. They bear interest at 7 per cent, payable April 1st and October 1st. Of the $6,000,000 there were sold $235,000, and proceeds used in 1872. The balance, $5,765,000, are being sold in 1873, and avails used to pay the temporary loans made to enable the company to press the construction of 1872. Including this issue of bonds, the annual interest on the entire bonded debt and leases will be $2,434,000.

CLEVELAND, COLUMBUS, CINCINNATI & INDIANAPOLIS RAILWAY.

Returns for the Fiscal Year ended December 31, 1872.

This road is a consolidation under date of May 14, 1868, of the Cleveland, Columbus & Cincinnati and the Bellefontaine Railroads. In addition to the main line branches and leased roads, which we give below in tabular form, this Company own one half of the capital stock ($600,000) of the Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company, which during the past year has earned nearly $10,000 per mile. The Cincinnati & Springfield Railway, which is under lease to this Company, was opened for business on the 1st of July last. It acts not only as an important feeder to the main line of the C. C. C. & I. R. R. but gives an independent entrance into Cincinnati, and forms the completing section of a main line between Cleveland and that city.

Banking Capital in Charleston.—We have received from Mr. A. C. Kaufman, of Charleston, an interesting paper upon "The Banking Capital of Charleston," from which we learn that involved, the aggregate capital of the South Carolina banks in 1860 was $14,962,062, of which amount Charleston controlled $13,000,000. In the Spring of 1865, at the close of the war, nearly all the banks were hopelessly ruined, and Charleston had not one dollar of active banking capital. In December of that year application was made and charters granted for two National banks, with a nominal capital of $400,000, of which only one-half was paid up; and the assistance of New York capitalists was necessary to have even this small amount of $200,000 subscribed. In the following year, 1866, the capital of the two National banks was paid up in full, still making, however, the total less than half a million dollars. From that time on the number of banks and amount of capital gradually increased, and at present Charleston has three National and four State banks, with a total paid up capital of $2,930,000, an increase of $2,530,000 since 1866. In addition to this there are four savings banks, which have on deposit $1,155,-990, a large portion of which sum represents the frugality and industriousness of some of the freedmen. In the other seven banks the current deposits are $1,590,000, making a total deposit in the city banks of $2,745,990. The total deposits in all the banks in South Carolina in 1860, according to the United States census, amounted to $4,165,615. Thus, though the banking capital has been cut down from $13,000,000 to $8,000,000, the deposits have fallen off only $1,419,625. Another source from which the mercantile community derive considerable assistance is the private bankers. These are moderately estimated to have from half to three-quarters of a million of money constactly under loan which must be taken into consideration in estimating the banking facilities of Charleston. A still further evidence of a healthier financial condition and the approximating of the loanable funds to the sum necessary to control an expanding local business is the decline of money from eighteen per cent a year to twelve per cent and a continued downward tendency. However disadvantageous, therefore, the condition of Charleston was in 1865, these figures conclusively prove that the city is steadily recuperating, and what is the more creditable to her mer chants is the fact that it is mainly to their unaided thrift and energy that this improved state of affairs has been brought

New National Banks.

The following is a list of National Banks organized since the 1st inst., viz.:
Official No.

2,104—The First National Gold Bank of Santa Barbara, Cal. Authorized capital, $100,000; paid in capital, $50,000. Mertimer Cook, President, Amasa L. Liucoln, Cashier. Authorized to commence bosiness May 7, 1873.

Missouri Pacific Ratlroad.—In 1868 the Legislature of Missouri passed an act releasing the State lien on the Missouri Pacific and North Missouri Railroads, and the former road was sold to the stockholders for $5,000,000. The full amount of the lien was $13,000,000. Last month, as was reported at the time, the present Legislature, by resolution, asked Attorney-General Ewing for an opinion as to the constitutionality of the act under which the State lien was released. That officer replied that it violated the Constitution. In order to settle the matter, it was agreed by all the parties interested that Governor Woodson should advertise the road for sale to satisfy the balance of State lien, $8,000,000, and the railroad company would apply to the Supreme Court for an injunction to restrain the sale, and a full hearing of the case should be had. Late dispatches from St. Louis represent that the announcement of the sale of the Missouri Pacific Railroad will be withheld until the various parties concerned arrive at a definite conclusion on the various questions involved,

London, Saturday, April 26, 1873.

The position of the Bank having slightly improved, but only to a very trifling extent, the directors of the Bank of England have made no change in the rates of discount, and the minimum quotation remains therefore at 4 per cent. The supply of money seeking employment has somewhat increased, and as the period of the year has now arrived when our importations of the precious metals usually increase, and as the general condition of mercantile and financial business is inactive, there is a very general impression that there will be no departure from a four per cent rate for some time to come. In times, however, of rapid communications unex pected changes take place, and it is therefore not desirable to attempt to calculate too far into the future. The return of comparative ease in the money market is a surprise to many, as indeed has been the condition of the money market since the termination of the late war. The quotations for money are now as follows:

| Bank rate       | 4 months' bank bilis 41% @41% 6 months' bank bills 43. @41% |

| 3 months' bilis |                                                             |

The rates of interest allowed by the joint stock banks and discount honses for deposits are subjoined:

The demand for gold for export continues sufficiently active to absorb all our importations. These have been rather considerable during the week, the "Mirzapore" having arrived from Alexandria with £696,421 in Australian gold. The silver market has not presented any feature of importance. Prices are without material change, the sum taken by the out-going mail steamer to the East being only £110,000. The supply of Mexican dollars is at present very limited, but an increase is expected, as the French mail steamer has arrived at St. Nazarre from Vera Cruz with £105,000. The following prices of bullion are from the circular of Messrs. Pixley, Abell, Langley & Blake:

On the Stock Exchange business has been rather quiet, and the tone has been duli. This dulness, however, does not appear to have arisen from any inherent weakness, but from the indisposition of the general public, as well as speculators, to operate largely. The future course of the markets is involved in some uncertainty, and hence the caution which prevails. The easier tone of the market has given an impetus to consols, as well as to municipal stocks and Indian railway securities; but British railway shares and most foreign securities are lower. Spanish stock is very depressed, as may well be expected, considering the very unfavorable news which has been received from Cadiz and Barcelona during the week. United States Government securities have been firm, but Erie shares and Atlantic & Great Western securities are weaker, on a statement furnished to one of the daily papers that the conduct of President Watson has been condemned, and that further litigation was probable. This information, however, has been contradicted in official quarters. The following were the closing prices of consols and the principal American securities this afternoon:

The French Atlantic cable was broken on Sunday last about 200 miles from Brest, so that only one cable is now in operation. The mercantile public have received with regret the announcement that instead of reducing their tariff, as had been agreed upon, to 3s. per word, an increase to 6s. per word, will come into operation on the 1st of May next. The companies have long maintained that additional cables are unnecessary, and great have been the efforts made to throw cold water upon all competing schemes. Those efforts have so far been successful; but it will now be perceived that we are in the hands of a great monopoly, which can and will do as it pleases. The announcement made by the companies is as follows:

"To the Editor—Sir.—I have the honor to inform you that in consequence of the breakage of the 1865 cable, belonging to the Anglo-American Company, on the 11th March, and of the breakage of the French Atlantic Company's cable on the 20th instant, the directors of the joint boards have reluctantly decided that it is necessary to raise their tariff for messages between the United Kingdom and New York, and all places easterly thereof, to six shillings per word from the 1st of May, 1873—I am, sir, your obedient servant (Signed), H. Weaver, General Manager."

It will be perceived, therefore, that the change is made without gratification. Under the circumstances, the public would only have considered it just that until the cables were repaired, the present rate of 4s. per word should be retained; but practically doubling the rate which was to have come into operation on the 1st of May appears to everybody an onerous demand. Such conduct is certainly calculated to give a stimulus to competing undertakings; as such a change as that just announced is injurious to the commercial interests of the community trading between the two countries.

The Erie Shareholders' Protection Committee, whose functions are now ended, have issued a statement of receipts and disbuse. ments. From this it appears that they received £32,951; that the expenses of conducting law suits in New York, and of registering shares in the names of Heath & Raphael, amounted to £26,557, while the expenses in London wers £4,153. The committee have taken no remuneration for their services, and remark that as the balance remaining is so small as only to represent one penny per share on those shares which have contributed, they have decided on presenting it to the London Hos pital.

The weather has been dry, but cold, with somewhat severe frosts at night. At present there are no indications of any injury having been done; but its continuance is calculated to diminish the crop of fruit. In other respects the agricultural prospect is encouraging, though the farmers assert that a large, or even an average crop of wheat, is an impossibility, owing to the wetness of the Winter. The trade for wheat has been firm during the week, and the better qualities of produce are, in some instances, rather dearer. The Continental Markets are also firmer, owing to the limited supplies of grain offering.

The following statement shows the imports and exports of cereal produce into and from the United Kingdom since harvest, viz., from September 1 to the close of last week, compared with the corresponding periods in the three previous years:

—At the opening at St. Albans, Vt., of the books of the Central Vermont Railroad Company, on the reorganization of the Vermont Central Railroad, the entire amount of stock subscribed for was over two millions, and the parties in the interest of the New York, Beston & Montreal Railroad Company took four-fifths of it.

—An important change was made April 8, in the distinguished firm of Messrs. M. Baird & Co., of Philadelphia, proprietors of the Baldwin Locomotive Works in that city. Mr. Matthew Baird retires from the firm and from business, and the Baldwin Locomotive Works have been purchased and will be carried on by the reorganized firm under the style of Burnham, Parry, Williams & Co., consisting of Messrs. George Burnham, Charles T. Parry, Edward H. Williams, Win. P. Henszey and Edward Longstreth. A very interesting and concise history of the works has recently been published by the Company, which furnishes in a great measure a record of the progress of locomotive engineering in this country. One of the first successful engines constructed in the country. One of the first successful engines constructed in the United States was built here in 1832 for the Philadelphia, Germantown & Norristown Railroad Company, and named the "Iron-

The second locomotive was not built until 1884, during which five were completed. The history of the works after this is but the history of the growth and final development of the locomotive

The first building on the present site was erected in 1835, which still stands, forming the office, drawing-room and principal machine-shops of the present works. Since then they have been enlarged from time to time until the works now cover about eight and a half acres and employ 2,800 hands, turning out about forty locomotives per month, or one and a half each day for every working day of the month. The total number that has been built is 3,213.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

BANKING HOUSE OF FISK & HATCH, 5 NASSAU STREET.

NEW YORK, May 10, 1873.

The present high price of Government Securities is increasing the demand for first-class Railroad Bonds; and it is not reasonable to suppose that the present difference of from TWENTY to THIRTY per cent can be obtained for any great leugth of time.

We are recommending for Exchanges or for new invstments-CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SEVEN PER CENT MORTGAGE BONDS, interest payable January and July, principal and interest payable, in gold, in New York City.

Only $3,000,000 of these Bonds will be offered for sale at present. Price 90 and accrued interest.

We consider them amply secured, and a very desirable investment. The proceeds will be used in adding largely to the present equipment, and in extending to deep water on the Chesapeake Bay, where the largest steamers in the world can load and unload alonside the cars.

We have just published a pamphlet giving a full description of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad and its advantages, and particular information concerning the Agricultural, Mineral and Mechanical resources, the remarkable Coal and Iron Deposits, and the opportunities for settlement, investment and the employment of capital and labor in various industries along its route, copies of which may be had free of charge upon application, in person or by mail.

We continue to deal in GOVERNMENT and CENTRAL and WESTERN PACIFIC Bonds, receive deposits on which we allow interest, make collections, execute orders at the Stock Exchange for cash, and conduct a general banking business.

2. They are a First Mortgage on the Road, its Equipments, Rights and Franchises.

3. They are a first lien on its Net Earnings.

4. There is pledged, in addition, for the payment of principal and interest, a Land Grant of 12,800 acres per mile through the States, and 25,600 acres per mile through the Territories traversed. FRIDAY EVENING, May 9, 1873.

The Money Market and Financial Situation...The present week is the first in which money has really been obtainable within easy rates of interest for many months past. The gradual increase in the amount of loanable funds in the city by reason of the steady flow of currency from the country towards this centre, and the large gold disbursements on the first of May swelling the bank reserves, have together broken the high rates for money and enabled borrowers to supply their wants at a reasonable price.

The important influences above-named—receipts of currency and government gold disbursements—so far affected the last statement of our city banks as to raise the reserves from a deficiency of $309,275 on April 26, to an excess of $2,720,425 above the legal limit, on Saturday, May 3, and this improvement in the condition of the banks appears to give the key note of the present monetary situation. Borrowers on stock collateral have paid 6@7 per cent during most of the week, with a temporary rise to 7 gold on Thursday. To-day the tone was easy at 5@7 per cent, according to the collaterals furnished. A reasonably easy market is now expected for some time to come.

The demand for commercial paper has been greatly stimulated, and the volume of transactions has been on a large scale. We have heard of sales of $500,000 in a single day by one firm of brokers who make paper a specialty, and on all sides an active inquiry is reported. It appears as if purchasers anticipated a very easy money market, and are hastening to invest their money ia this direction at 8 to 10 per cent for the next three or four months. The prevailing rate for first-class names is 8@10, with a tendency towards lower prices.

Advices by cable from London this week have not been as favorable. On Wednesday an advance of  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent was announced in the Bank of England rate, which now stands at  $4\frac{1}{2}$ ; and on Thursday the weekly statement of the Bank showed, according to the Associated Press dispatches, a loss of £499,000 in bullion. There was no particular excitement in London, and quotations to-day are reported at  $4\frac{1}{4} @ 4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

The Bank of France shows an increase in specie of 3,000,000 france.

The last statement of our associated city banks (May 3) showed an increase in reserves, so as to raise them from a deficiency of $309,275 the previous week to an excess of $3,029,700 above the 25 per cent legal requirement. The total liabilities were $224,036,300, and the reserves $58,729,500.

The following statement shows the changes from previous week a, nd a comparison with 1872 and 1871:

United States Bonds.—The demand for government securities has continued very active, particularly from the German banking houses who have purchased largely for the London market. Their orders for purchasing seem to be in advance of the floating supply of bonds to be had in the market at any one time, and it is only by a rise in prices that their buying is checked. Some of the insurance and other moneyed corporations have been induced to sell governments to a moderate extent, in view of the high prices ruling, and the supply has been augmented slightly from this direction. At the Treasury purchase of $500,000 bonds on Wednesday the total offerings amounted to £1,351,000.

The most popular issues for the foreign markets are the 5-20s coupon of 1867 and the new 65s. For the purpose of showing the amount of each class of bonds outstanding, we have prepared from the last U. S. debt statement the table given below, which we shall continue in our report and correct by each monthly statement of the debt as soon as issued.

Closing prices daily have been as follows.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Among the Southern State bonds, Tennessees have been rather firmer, and sold to day at 81% for the old bonds. The Governor has issued a circular letter for the benefit of bondholders, to give them information in regard to the funding of the debt and the prospect of interest payment. He considers the prospect hapeful, and considers an extra session of the Legislature nnnecessary.

Railroad bonds have been more active under the relaxation in money, and with the high prices of Government bonds and the many attractive railroad securities offering, there is every prospect that business in this direction will increase as the season advances. An important feature of the bond market during the past year has been the large number of loans offered by old-established railroad companies for the purpose of new construction, equipment, or other improvements. This week the Toledo, Wabash & Western Company offers a new 7 per cent gold montgage loan for $5,000,000, to defray the expenses of laying steel rails; only $1,000,000 of the bonds are offered at present.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market immediately after the date of our last report, was depressed by a break in Pacific Mail which carried that stock down to 49½ on Saturday, the 3d inst. This decline was made on rumors that the principal operator would be unable to meet his engagements, the principal operator would be unable to meet his engagements, though its subsequent movements seemed to suggest that it was probably for speculative purposes. At the same time an attack was made on Union Pacific and C. C. & I. C., which declined—the former to 28\frac{a}{2} and the latter to 32\frac{a}{2}. There was subsequently a recovery from the depression which accompanied the break in the stocks named, and the market has since been stronger but quite variable in tone from day to day. The general appearance has to some extent favored the idea that there has been an inclination to purchase certain of the leading exceptains stocks with the tion to purchase certain of the leading speculative stocks with the view to a rise in prices hereafter.

The Gold Market .- There has been comparatively little excitement in the gold market, and the price closes to-day a little higher than last week. The advance of  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent in the Bank of England rate on Wednesday assisted to some extent in etrengthening the price. On gold loans the rates to-day were 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 per cent for carrying. On time loans of gold quotations are 1-16 to  $\frac{1}{2}$  for carrying for 30 days, and flat to  $\frac{1}{2}$  for  $\frac{1}{2}$  for the price of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state of the second state o 60 days. Foreign Exchange.-The exchange market has been comparatively quiet during most of the week, and actual business has been done, as usual, at a concession from the asking rates. To day the leading drawers advanced quotations for sterling bills from their opening prices, on a rather better demand, and actual business has been on a basis of 108½ for prime 60 day sterling. The more settled condition of the gold and exchange marketa have been favorable to higher exchange, but the exports of merchandise are now large, and the demand for Government bonds for export has been heavy for the past six weeks, both tending to leave the demand for grayburger. tending to lesson the demand for bills of exchange. The nominal rates are as follows:
